

HKS at 2019 Indonesia International Motor Show

HKS is a leading aftermarket parts manufacturer from Japan. HKS was founded in 1973, on its 46 year journey, company has participated in numerous automotive events, build tens of race cars and developed thousands of performance parts. HKS does contract research and development, design and manufacturing for automobile manufacturers and carryout various joint research with leading Japanese universities. Acquired technologies and know-how are later implemented in the aftermarket parts business and allow us to further improve our performance parts.

HKS has three sales offices in Japan and is represented worldwide by four overseas sales subsidiaries (in USA, UK, Thailand and China), one additional exhaust factory in Thailand and authorized distributors and dealers all around the world.

In Indonesia, our local long term partner is PT. Sarana Berkat. We have been working together for more than a decade. Our main products in growing Indonesian market are exhaust systems and maintenance products, such as engine oil. HKS engine oil is a fully synthetic oil available in wide range of viscosity grades and application. Used in all of our company cars and racing cars, and tested in severe conditions of track use, it has been proved to be great for both, daily use and tuning cars.

Today, HKS is proud to announce its participation in one of the biggest Indonesian automotive event: Telkomsel Indonesia International Motorshow 2019 held in Jakarta International Expo (April 25, 2019 to May 5, 2019).

Together with our local distributor PT. Sarana Berkat, we welcome all visitors in our booth.

HKS displays a variety of newly released performance products for Honda Civic Type R, exhaust systems and maintenance products. HKS will continue its development to provide the best performance products and improve driving experience.

We hope to see you at our booth.
